taylor | english

the purpose-built law firm™

gfowler@taylorenglish.com
404.316.8494

Practice Areas

- Wills & Trusts
- Estate Planning
- Charitable & Planned Giving

Education

- J.D., Georgia State University College of Law, 2002
- B.S. Applied Mathematics, North Carolina State University, 1973

Bar & Court Admissions

- Georgia

Memberships

- State Bar of Georgia, Fiduciary Section
- American Bar Association
- Georgia Planned Giving Council
- Leave A Legacy® GEORGIA
- Georgia Lions Lighthouse Foundation Planned Giving Committee
- Trout Unlimited Life Member

Gordon E. Fowler

Gordon Fowler helps his clients create estate plans that accomplish their personal goals of providing for and supporting themselves, their families, and the charitable organizations they care about. His goal is to protect his clients' assets from loss and waste with an orderly and tax efficient plan that gives his clients control and peace of mind about the ultimate distribution of their property.

He brings to his practice an extensive background in securities and insurance, ownership of a service sector business, corporate management in residential design and construction, and probate court service as Staff Attorney. He has a unique and broad perspective for understanding the needs and desires of his clients, the challenges of protecting their assets, and how best to use their personal, business, and retirement assets to preserve and transfer wealth, accomplishing their lifelong goals. "My first hand experience helps me to understand and appreciate more fully my client's situation. What I want to do is share what I've learned in a way that makes my client's journey a little easier, helps them complete their life's work, and hopefully plants some seeds for tomorrow, creating their personal legacy."

Drawing on his knowledge of the various kinds of investments, Mr. Fowler guides clients in choosing assets best suited to provide immediate benefits and long-term, ongoing support. Matching assets to the method and purpose of the distributions, he is able to maximize value while minimizing taxes for his clients. Having owned a business, he understands the concerns that are unique to business owners when planning for their retirement or disability, implementing well defined and funded buy-sell agreements, and planning for an orderly business succession to the next generation or to a new owner.

From his corporate management background, he brings his experience in evaluating and coordinating many competing interests to create a comprehensive plan to his client's personal family and business dynamics.

In the probate court, he provided research and advice to the court on matters of estate litigation, estate administration, conservatorships, and guardianships.

Mr. Fowler is active in the non-profit community, advising charitable organizations and helping donors connect with and support the charities of their choice.