

ACKNOWLEDGING EXCELLENCE

KIND Honors Russ Dunlap as 2020 Pro Bono Attorney of the Year

Kids in Need of Defense (KIND), a leading national organization advocating for the rights of unaccompanied migrant and refugee children in the U.S., recently honored Taylor English partner Russ Dunlap as a 2020 Pro Bono Attorney of the Year. The honor recognizes the critical legal services Russ provided to many children and families throughout the year.

Legal aid is a core support function of KIND, which also provides family separation response services, social services, policy and advocacy, international programs and COVID-19 assistance. The children in the KIND program are among the most vulnerable population, having escaped various levels of community and societal violence in their home countries in Central America. KIND and their many volunteers work to shepherd these children through the U.S. immigration system by providing free legal counsel.

We are inspired by Russ and thank him for giving of his time to support such a deserving organization!

