

The Georgia Hate Crimes Bill

At Taylor English we are committed to supporting the positive change and social impact needed to build a more inclusive world. We refuse to accept racism, intolerance, or inequality in our workplace and our communities. That is why we joined with our clients, colleagues, and numerous Georgia businesses to urge the General Assembly to support, approve, and sign into law a specific and clear bill against hate crimes. We were proud to stand with these Georgia businesses, united against bias and prejudice, and to support a hate crimes bill in Georgia. House Bill 426 passed in the Georgia Legislature and was signed by Governor Kemp in June 2020.
