

"Staying Connected Can Also Be Bad for Business," Atlanta Business Chronicle

January 20, 2017

On January 20, 2017, Mitzi L. Hill was quoted in the Atlanta Business Chronicle regarding security with connected devices. "Don't send sensitive or confidential information on an unsecured network," said Ms. Hill. "If you wouldn't trust it with your bank account, it's a good idea not to trust it with an email outlining strategy for the big merger." The full article can be found in the January 20-26, 2017, print edition of the Atlanta Business Chronicle, and on the Atlanta Business Chronicle website, published on January 23, 2017.
